Chicago Bulls' Prospectus

THE CHICAGO BULLS will be a good basketball team in 1974-75! At the time of this writing it also can be said the Bulls will be a great basketball team IF certain pre-season personnel problems are resolved. During the entire preseason schedule the Bulls operated without 3/5's of the All-Star lineup which many experts predict could bring Chicago its first professional sports championship since 1963.

Last year the veteran Bulls advanced to the Western Conference Finals for the first time in history only to fall to the Milwaukee Bucks in 4 straight. The absence of star guard Jerry Sloan in that series hurt the team, but Coach Dick Motta also recognized the need for a dominating center to battle superstar Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. As a result Motta completed the late-summer trade which sent 6-9 Cliff Ray to the Golden State Warriors in exchange for 6-11 Nate Thurmond—long recognized as one of the top 3 pivotmen in the NBA.

ANOTHER KEY DEAL was the swap with the Buffalo Braves of popular Bull fixture Bob Weiss for 6-6 Matt Guokas. This trade also was predicated on the Milwaukee playoff series when the absence of Sloan exposed the lack of a big guard to handle opposing team's larger backcourtmen.

Prior to training camp Motta felt secure that the lineup of Sloan and Norm Van Lier at guards, Chet Walker and Bob Love at forwards and Thurmond at center provided the Bulls with a championship caliber aggregation. However, the holdouts in training camp by Love and Van Lier plus the problems in settling a new contract with Walker prevented the unit from working together. Going into the regular season Motta had to accept the fact that when the missing players returned it would take a while to work them into shape, and also to blend them into a typical Motta unit.

A BLESSING IN DISGUISE was the opportunity during preseason to take long looks at several rookies and some veterans who had played sparingly in previous years. Drawing high marks from the Bulls' mentor were guards Leon Benbow, 6-4 second round draft choice from Jacksonville, and Bob Wilson, 6-3 third round selection from Wichita State. Free Agent forward Bill Hewitt, a former number one pick of the Los Angeles Lakers, and 3-year Bull Roland Garrett received plenty of work in preseason and should provide the club with top-notch depth in the regular season.

Security at center appears certain with the arrival of Thurmond and the return to pre-1972 knee injury form of Tom Boerwinkle. Long Tom was moving well and appeared over the effects of two knee operations which have limited his playing time the past two seasons.

IN THE BACKCOURT Motta sees one of the team's strongest points with Sloan, a much improved Rick Adelman, Guokas, Van Lier and the rookie tandem of Benbow and Wilson.

Up front Motta is counting on the recovery from a mid-summer leg injury of number one draft choice Cliff Pondexter, a 6-9, 20-year old "Hardship" from Long Beach State. The arrival of Walker and Love along with Pondexter, Hewitt and Garrett would give the Bulls the combination of experience, strength and youth up front.

Offensively, Motta can count on his starting five to produce points with a combined career scoring average of 81 points a game. All five have been NBA All-Stars and Thurmond, Van Lier and Sloan have been NBA All-Defensive first team choices. Love has twice been named to the second team.

And so the Bulls move ahead in their quest for '50 More in 1974-75.' They remain the only team without a superstar center ever to achieve that goal four years in a row and with the arrival of Thurmond, a 5th is in the offing IF all the pieces fall together.

MEET THE BULLS

JOHN KERR
Business Manager

One of Chicago's most popular sports personalities, John Kerr returned home to the Chicago Bulls in 1973 to become the club's Business Manager. Kerr's "Homecoming" came after serving two years as Administrative Vice-President of the ABA's Virginia Squires and prior to that as coach of the Phoenix Suns.

He was the original coach of the Bulls and earned "Coach of the Year" honors in the team's first season, 1966-67, when he guided the expansion team into the playoffs. The Bulls have the distinction of being the only NBA team to have two men who have achieved this lofty goal.

A native of Chicago, Kerr starred for Tilden Tech and was an All-American at the University of Illinois. He subsequently played 12 years in the NBA with the Syracuse Nationals, Philadelphia 76ers and Baltimore Bullets.

He is a member of the elite 10,000 Points club with 12,480 career points and also hauled down 10,103 rebounds. He is a member of the Citizens Savings (nee Helms) Basketball Hall of Fame and was named one of the 10 outstanding Young Men in Chicago by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1967. Kerr's most enduring NBA record is having played in 844 consecutive games.

MEET THE BULLS

DICK MOTTA
Coach/Director of Player Personnel

There never was any question about Dick Motta's coaching ability, but since assuming responsibility for trading, drafting and signing of Bulls' personnel a year ago he has gained even greater respect in the NBA.

Shrewd dealing which netted the Bulls' superstar center Nate Thurmond and the opportunity to draft rookie Cliff Pondexter has made the Bulls a genuine title threat for the first time. The amiable 43-year old native of Medvale, Utah has instilled his own on-court intensity in each of his players and the results are now well known. In six years at the helm of the Bulls his teams have won 286 and lost 206 despite two losing seasons when he was installing his disciplined brand of basketball.

In the last four seasons the Bulls have been 214-114, winning more than 50 games each year and in 1974 advancing to the Western Conference finals. Only three other teams, the Bill Russell Boston Celtics, Wilt Chamberlain's Philadelphia 76ers, and the Kareem Abdul-Jabbar led Milwaukee Bucks have ever put together four straight 50-win campaigns.

Motta modestly proclaims there's no special secret to the Bulls' success. The disciplined, patterned offense revolves around six basic plays. But each play can have as many as 25 variations," he says. "We spend endless hours practicing our plays. Sometimes we'll have a two or three-hour session going over just one play."

Even more impressive is the Bulls defense which last year held 48 opponents under 100 points and ranked second in the NBA in points allowed. Guards Jerry Sloan and Norm Van Lier were named to the all-defensive squad and with the addition of Thurmond it gives the team three former all-defensive team selections.

Motta began his coaching career in Grace, Idaho, where he once fired his entire high school starting five for a New Year's eve drinking escapade. Starting from scratch he won the state championship in two years and then went on to Weber State College, where his teams won six Big Sky championships in nine years.

Motta, lives in Northbrook with his wife Janice and their three children.

MEET THE BULLS

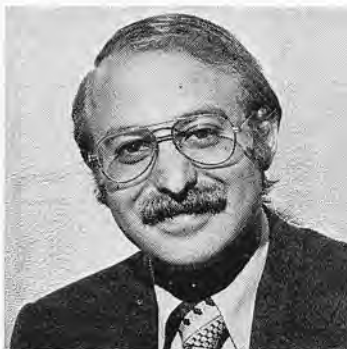

ED BADGER — Assistant Coach — has been a very busy man since joining the Bulls as assistant coach and head scout in December, 1973. Since his appointment to the dual roles, Badger was assistant coach last summer for the United States basketball team which won ve of six contests from the Soviet Union, in addition to holding down the head coaching and athletic director's jobs at Chicago's Wilbur Wright Junior College.

The Bulls' new assistant was also head coach of the U.S. World University Games team which defeated the Russians in Moscow during the summer of 1972. That same team won tournaments in Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria prior to copping a world championship.

A native Western New Yorker, Badger attended the University of Iowa where he lettered twice in basketball and then was a First Lieutenant in the United States Air Force, serving as an athletic officer.

Badger, the 1972-73 Illinois College Coach of the Year chosen by Chicago Today, North Central College Coach of the Year and Northern Illinois Junior College Coach of the Year, started his coaching career in a high school in Iowa before coming to Wilbur Wright College in 1959. He has compiled a 300-98 record in addition to bringing 3 Northern Illinois championships, 9 Sectional titles and 2 Regional honors to that school.

IRWIN MANDEL — Controller and Financial Officer — Irwin is 32 years old and a native Chicagoan. Irwin's responsibilities with the Bulls are in the financial, accounting, and tax areas.

He joined the Bulls' organization January 1, 1973, after four years in the tax department at Arthur Andersen & Company. Prior to this, Irwin attended Northwestern University and graduated from its law school and undergraduate school.

He is a member of the Illinois Bar and a CPA.

Mandel resides in Evanston with his wife, Sheri and son, Michael.

Meet The Chicago Bulls

25 CHET WALKER 6'7" 220 FORWARD BRADLEY 1962

BIRTHDATE: 2-22-40 HOMETOWN: Benton Harbor, Mich. RESIDENCE: Chicago

HOW ACQUIRED: From Philadelphia with Shaler Halimon for Jim Washington and a player to be named later, September 2, 1969

Chet "The Jet" completed his 12th season in the NBA and 5th with the Bulls still exhibiting the moves which make him one of the best one-on-one players in the league. Walker, who now must be considered one of the league's all-time great forwards, had one of his best campaigns ever last year, appearing in all 82 regular season games with an average of 19.3, this despite his relatively "old" age of 34.

Walker who made the NBA's All-Star squad for the seventh time last season, was 4th on the team in minutes played, led the squad in free throws made and foul shooting accuracy and posted a single game high of 39 points. Walker also played in all 11 of the Bulls' post-season games and had a 32 point effort in the playoffs.

When the Bulls need one, crucial bucket, you can look to "The Jet" to take the last shot for the Bulls, as his ability to drive the lane, pop from the corner, or draw a foul makes him a triple-threat to score.

The acquisition of Walker is considered one of the key moves in establishing the Bulls as a vital force in the NBA. During Walker's tenure with the Bulls the club has won 252 and lost only 158 regular season games and made the playoffs the past 4 seasons.

A former Bradley University star, Walker played seven years with the Syracuse Nationals and Philadelphia 76ers before coming to the Windy City.

21 RICK ADELMAN 6'2" 179 GUARD LOYOLA (Calif.)

BIRTHDATE: 6-16-46 HOMETOWN: Lynwood, Ca. RESIDENCE: Costa Mesa, Ca.

HOW ACQUIRED: From Portland Trailblazers for future considerations in Aug., 1973.

With Bobby Weiss shuttling off to Buffalo, Rick Adelman now becomes the Bulls' third guard. Adelman saw limited action in 1973-74 and averaged 3.3 points per game in just 55 games.

Adelman who was team captain of the Portland Trailblazers, is a good defensive player and good passer, according to Dick Motta. Adelman consistently led the Blazers in assists and had 17 against Cleveland in 1971.

With Sidney Wicks and Geoff Petrie arriving on the scene for the Trailblazers, Adelman's scoring output decreased. However, Adelman has improved his shooting touch the last few years and now is a threat from the outside.

Adelman's improvement on offense gives Motta the ability to "swing" Jerry Sloan to forward, should the circumstances call for such a move.

In his rookies campaign, with the San Diego Rockets, he suffered a broken cheekbone and cracked jaw and in his second year a groin injury hampered his progress. The Rockets then exposed him in the expansion draft and the Trailblazers selected him.

42 NATE THURMOND 6'11" 235 CENTER BOWLING GR. 1963

BIRTHDATE: 7-25-41 HOMETOWN: Akron, Ohio RESIDENCE: San Francisco

HOW ACQUIRED: from Golden State Warriors for Cliff Ray, No. 1 draft pick and cash in August, 1974.

The Chicago Bulls new "Chairman of the Boards," Nate Thurmond ranks as one of the finest centers in league history. The 33-year-old 6-11½, 230 pound native of Akron, Ohio, and veteran of 11 NBA seasons has appeared in 6 NBA All-Star games and 7 post-season playoffs since joining the Warriors as their No. 1 draft choice in 1963 fresh from an outstanding career at Bowling Green.

"Nate the Great's" career scoring high is 43 points vs. the Detroit Pistons on Feb. 2, 1971 and his rebound high total is 42 against the Pistons in 1965—a total surpassed by only Wilt Chamberlain and Bill Russell in the history of the NBA.

Thurmond's season scoring high was 21.9 in 1969-70 and his rebounding high for average was 22.0 in the 1967-68 season. During the 1972-73 playoffs against the Milwaukee Bucks, he led the Warriors to a surprising 4-2 win over Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's team.

The Chairman of the Boards has appeared in 54 playoff games averaging 15.4 points per game and 16.6 rebounds with a high game of 32.

Last season against the Bulls, Thurmond averaged 13.2 points per game and 12.6 per contest. In a game that he was supposed to miss because of an injury, Thurmond played 47 minutes on Feb. 17, scored 31 points on 14 of 22 tries from the field, assisted six times, blocked 3 shots and hauled down 19 boards. He held Bulls' centers to 2 points that evening.

A gourmet cook and owner of a soul food restaurant, "The Beginning" in San Francisco, Thurmond is one of the few centers who can truly dominate a game and neutralize the likes of Jabbar and Wilt Chamberlain, when he was active.

Coach Dick Motta hopes that Nate Thurmond, who owns a vintage Rolls Royce, can steer the Bulls to their first title in history.

23 ROWLAND GARRETT 6'6" 212 FORWARD FLORIDA ST. 1971

BIRTHDATE: 7-16-50 HOMETOWN: Canton, Miss. RESIDENCE: Chicago

HOW ACQUIRED: Drafted by Chicago on fifth round, 1972.

Rowland Garrett averaged just 3.8 points per game last season, but at times was the Bulls' third forward and probably will be the first substitute forward for Coach Dick Motta this year.

One of the key players in Florida State's march to the NCAA finals three years ago, Garrett is blessed with outstanding jumping ability which makes him a potentially tough man under the boards. He had 70 rebounds in just 373 minutes during the 1973-74 campaign.

Garrett's high point game was a 16 point effort vs. the Lakers.

Hugh Durham, Garrett's college coach, said that Rowland "is great on defense, a good leaper and does a great job on the boards."

Rowland Garrett may prove Durham correct in his third pro season with the Bulls.

10 BOB LOVE 6'8" 215 FORWARD SOUTHERN 1961

BIRTHDATE: 12-8-42 HOMETOWN: Delhi, Louisiana RESIDENCE: Palatine

HOW ACQUIRED: from Milwaukee with Bob Weiss for Flynn Robinson, Nov. 23, 1968

Bob Love and the Chicago Bulls continued their "Love Story" last year as Love led the Bulls in scoring once again, averaging 21.8 points per ball game. "Butterbean," who played in all 82 of the Bulls' regular season games, also led the team in minutes played with 3,292. He also topped the squad in field goals made and attempted, shooting 731-1752 for .417 per cent. His high point game of the year was 43 points against Houston.

Love, an All-Star performer three times, enjoyed fine success in the playoffs as well, averaging 23 points per game against the Detroit Pistons and the Milwaukee Bucks. His hot shooting in the Detroit series was one of the reasons the Bulls were able to advance past the first round for the first time in their history. He scored 38 points in the second game of the series against the Pistons.

"Butterbean's" offensive prowess is common knowledge in the NBA, but if you ask Coach Dick Motta who one of the top defensive forwards in the league is, he would tell you that without a doubt Bob Love ranks very high in that category. Love was selected to the NBA's All-League defensive second team.

Love is a tireless performer and he maintains his stamina by playing basketball in the summer. The Bulls' veteran of six seasons feels that by playing basketball in the summer he has an advantage over his foes and no doubt many of his opponents feel the same way.

Coach Motta acquired Love in perhaps the most one-sided coup in NBA history by trading guard Flynn Robinson to Milwaukee for Love and Bobby Weiss. Weiss was sent to the Buffalo Braves last summer but Love continues his honeymoon in Chicago.

18 TOM BOERWINKLE 6'11" 270 CENTER TENNESSEE 1968

BIRTHDATE: 8-23-45 HOMETOWN: Independence, Ohio RESIDENCE: Northbrook

HOW ACQUIRED: drafted by Chicago on first round, 1968

Tom Boerwinkle appeared in only 46 games last year, but with Dennis Awtrey lost in the expansion draft, Long Tom will undoubtedly see considerably more action this year as the backup to Nate Thurmond.

Boerwinkle had a 16 point game last year and kept his shooting eye in focus by connecting on 49 per cent of his field goal attempts, despite limited playing time. He had 213 "boards" in only 602 minutes.

Long Tom has been the team's leading rebounder in each of his four healthy seasons and twice has gone over 1,000 boards in a single season however, Boerwinkle has been hampered with knee problems for the last two campaigns.

Boerwinkle has come a long way from his early, awkward days as a youngster. He did not play varsity ball until his senior year in high school and then rounded off some of those rough edges at the University of Tennessee, where he was the leading rebounder in the Southeast Conference.

If Boerwinkle can remain injury-free this year, Coach Motta will not hesitate to give Thurmond much needed rest. Boerwinkle has shown in the past that he can lead the Bulls offensive patterns and clog up the middle on defense.

2 NORM VAN LIER 6'1" 175 GUARD ST. FRANCIS (Pa.) 1969

BIRTHDATE: 4-1-47 HOMETOWN: East Liverpool, Ohio RESIDENCE: Chicago

HOW ACQUIRED: from Cincinnati with a future draft choice for Jim Fox and a future draft choice, November 9, 1971.

Norm Van Lier, the Bulls fiery, playmaking guard enjoyed his finest season last year and was rewarded by being named to the NBA All-Star team for the first time in his career.

Stormin' Norman, one of the league's best at penetrating the enemies' defense handed off for 548 assists last year, 200 more than the nearest Bull.

"Van," only 6'1", makes up for his lack of height on defense by utilizing his quick hands which results in many steals. Van Lier and Jerry Sloan team up to form one of the NBA's top defensive backcourts. Both Van Lier and Sloan were named to the league's All-Defensive first team last year.

Norman's quick temper resulted in a team high 282 personal fouls and high among the league leaders in technical fouls, but as Van Lier says, "I play just as hard as any superstar. . . . Nobody can ever say I loafed."

Van Lier who does not consider himself a scorer, nonetheless averaged a fine 14.3 points per game last year and had a high game of 30.

4 JERRY SLOAN 6'5" 200 GUARD EVANSVILLE 1961

BIRTHDATE: 3-28-42 HOMETOWN: McLeansboro, Ill. RESIDENCE: Northbrook

HOW ACQUIRED: Selected from Baltimore by Bulls in expansion draft, April 30, 1966

Jerry Sloan, according to New York Knick guard Walt Frazier, is like glue—he sticks with you the entire game. Of course there have been comments from opposing players and coaches which cannot be printed, but everyone in the NBA will agree that Sloan is not only a hawk on defense but perhaps the fiercest competitor in the league.

If Pete Rose is the Charlie Hustle of baseball, then Jerry Sloan certainly is the Charley Hustle of basketball—running, jumping, harassing and falling all over the court as he tries to help the Bulls win in "any way I can." Sloan probably leads the league in floor burns and assorted bumps and bruises but Sloan still remains a fearless player.

Sloan suffered an arch injury last year in the playoffs against the Pistons but apparently Sloan has made a complete recovery.

Sloan, named to the All-NBA defensive team, is considered too aggressive by fans in other NBA cities, but every coach would love to have him.

Mr. Hustle played in 70 of the Bulls' regular season games, missing some of those games due to an ankle injury.

Sloan, a two-time All-Star, averaged 13.2 points last year and had a high performance of 25. Sloan's value to the Bulls is increased by his versatility—he can play either backcourt or forward with equal ability.

BIRTHDATE: 2-25-44 HOMETOWN: Philadelphia, Pa. RESIDENCE: Longport, N.J.

HOW ACQUIRED: From Buffalo with a second-round draft choice for Bob Weiss in August, 1974

Solid Fireman who can play guard or forward and seldom makes mistakes. Matt saw action with KC-Omaha Houston and Buffalo last season and helped pace the Braves into the Atlantic Division playoffs against Boston. Has a winning background after playing with the great Philadelphia team from 1966 through 1971.

A splendid passer, he's not noted for his great shooting, but was second in the NBA in 1972-73 with a 57% field goal average. He and Jerry Sloan can both swing to forward giving Motta enviable flexibility plus a presence of two rugged, defensive guards.

Played for the Bulls one year and Motta said he was glad to have him back. Best scoring season was 1972-73 with KC-Omaha when he averaged 9.1 a game. Also enjoyed his best season as a playmaker with 403 assists.

54 BILL HEWITT 6'7" 210 FORWARD SOUTHERN CAL 1968

BIRTHDATE: 8-8-44 HOMETOWN: Cambridge, Mass. RESIDENCE: Pacoima, Calif.

HOW ACQUIRED: Joined Bulls as free agent in September, 1974

A real surprise in training camp after calling Coach Motta and asking for a tryout. Out of basketball for one season after 5 solid years in the NBA with Los Angeles, Detroit and Buffalo. Lakers' number one draft choice in 1968 after starring at Southern Cal. Named to all-rookie squad in 1968-69.

Best season in the NBA came with Pistons in 1970-71 where he averaged 7.7 ppg. and hauled down 454 rebounds. Extremely smart player who is seldom out of position and works hard on defense. Enjoyed great play-off with Lakers in 1968-69 averaging 9.3 for 12 games.

Had rebounding high of 25 and scoring tops of 19 with best shooting percentage of .473 with Detroit in 1971-72. Could see a lot of action this season as third forward for Motta.

20 CLIFF PONDEXTER 6'9" 240 FORWARD LONG BEACH ST.

BIRTHDATE: 9-16-54 HOMETOWN: Fresno, Cal. RESIDENCE: Fresno, Cal.

HOW ACQUIRED: Drafter number one by Bulls in 1974

First "Hardship" selection in Bulls' history and one of the youngest players in NBA history. Cliff sustained a mid-summer leg fracture which delayed his progress in the preseason. Called "The 'finest college freshman in the nation'" last year by many rival coaches.

Led Long Beach to 24-2 mark and led team in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage. Shooting mark of 59% was new school record. Named to first-team All-PCAA and honorable mention All-American with UPI and AP. Selected as Most Valuable Player in Evansville Holiday Tournament. Named High School All-American at San Joaquin Memorial in Fresno.

Pondexter has soft shooting touch similar to Bob Lanier, is extremely quick for his size and leaps out of sight.

5 LEON BENBOW 6'4" 185 GUARD JACKSONVILLE 1974

BIRTHDATE: 7-23-51 HOMETOWN: Columbia, S.C. RESIDENCE: Jacksonville, Fla.

HOW ACQUIRED: Drafted number two by Bulls in 1974

Amazingly quick and mature rookie guard who compiled brilliant record during three seasons at Jacksonville. Paced the Dolphins to 3-straight post-season appearances and last year was leading scorer on 20-10 team which advanced to semifinals of the NIT.

Earned reputation as top collegiate defender after holding high-scoring Oral Roberts guard Richie Fuqua to 10 points in head-to-head match. In opening pro appearance against Seattle Supersonics scored 14 points in 13 minutes. Excellent medium range shooter and fine ball-handler. Motta considers Benbow and fellow rookie Bob Wilson as potentially superb NBA backcourt before too many years pass.

Benbow is married and has a three-year old daughter.

8 BOB WILSON 6'2" 180 GUARD WICHITA STATE 1974

BIRTHDATE: 1-15-51 HOMETOWN: Indianapolis, Ind. RESIDENCE: Indianapolis, Ind.

HOW ACQUIRED: Drafted number three by Bulls in 1974

An outstanding shooter and ball handler who excited fans in preseason teaming with fellow rookie Leon Benbow. Led Shockers with a 20 ppg. in 1973-74 and shot 53% from the field. Shot 87% from the charity stripe and handed out 3 assists a contest.

Played first two years at Northeastern Junior College in Sterling, Colo., where he was third in the nation in total field goals. Motta expects Wilson and Benbow to make it big in a couple years with their great quickness and fine shooting skills.

MEET THE BULLS

DR. ROBERT BIEL — Trainer — Graduate of Chicago College. Dr. Biel started in the trainer program while in medical school.

Trainer for the original team in 1966-67, he returned to the Bulls after a three-year absence, although he remained active with the Chicago franchise by working rookie and training camps.

He also serves as traveling secretary for the team and during the past season coached the Bulls to 2 wins in 3 contests during Motta's absence from the sidelines.

A practicing podiatrist, Dr. Biel's background and experience qualify him better than average trainers to handle the frequent foot and ankle injuries.

MIKE McCLURE — Director of Media Relations — Starting second season with Bulls organization after three years as Director of Big Ten Service Bureau.

A native Chicagoan, he graduated from DePauw University and previously worked for the City News Bureau, Chicago Tribune, People Gas Company, and a Lafayette, Ind., television station.

Big Ten publications he produced won back-to-back "Best in the Nation" honors from the College Sports Information Directors in 1972 and 1973. He was selected for inclusion in the 1973 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America. In 1974 the Chicago Jaycees honored him as one of Chicago's Ten Outstanding Young Citizens.

DICK GONSKI — Color Commentator and Analyst — Started his second year as color commentator and analyst on all Bull road game telecasts. Served four years as sales director for the Bulls.

A native of Chicago, the 31-year-old Gonski attended De LaSalle High School and is a graduate of Notre Dame where he was a three-year starter for the Irish baseball squad. In 1966 he was named to the College All-American team at short-stop. He played briefly in the Milwaukee Braves farm system before starting his career in business.

RADIO VOICE OF BULLS

JIM DURHAM

WIND Radio will again serve as the Bulls' radio outlet in Chicagoland in 1974-75 and all 82-games — home and away — will be brought to you by Jim Durham, the "Voice of the Bulls."

Durham joined the Bulls' team last season and drew immediate rave notices for his professionalism and style. The 27-year old Chicago native began his broadcasting career in 1965 with the campus radio station at Illinois State University.

He was sports director of a station in Normal, Ill., and then moved to Peoria where he worked until entering military service.

Following his discharge he worked in Salina, Kan., before returning to Illinois as sports director of WJBC in Bloomington. Durham covered Illinois State football and basketball before joining the WIND staff.

VIDEO VOICE OF BULLS

ANDY MUSSER

Veteran sportscaster Andy Musser begins his second season of handling the play-by-play telecasts of Bulls' road games. A ten-year veteran of pro basketball announcing, Musser was with the Philadelphia 76ers for 7-seasons and also was the television announcer for the New York Jets.

A native of Lemoyne, Pa., Musser graduated from Syracuse University and has been involved in broadcasting since he won a "Junior Sportscaster" contest at age 18.

Musser is sports director of a San Diego, Cal., TV station and also broadcasts the San Diego Chargers NFL games. Formerly he was a network announcer for CBS in New York.

MEMO

TO: CHICAGO MEDIA
FROM: MIKE McCLURE
DATE: OCTOBER 14, 1974

Welcome to the Chicago Bulls 9th season! We again hope to accomodate you as effciently as possible. The following are some of the services we will provide and some of the things we ask of you.

We ask members of the working press to notify us at least 24 hours in advance (Friday noon for weekend games) of games you will be covering. If you are working you will either find a seat assigned on press row or may take one of the seats designated for working press. If you are non-working we ask that you sit in the hockey press box at the west end of the stadium. Your press pass entitles you to enter the hockey box for the pregame snack and the locker room (When it is opened by the coach)

All press using Bulls or NBA season press passes should enter through Gate 3½.

We will provide you with the following information prior to, during and after the game:

Lineups. NBA standings and current schedule. Cumulative statistics for both the Bulls and the opposition. Notes of both human and statistical interest. Bull's game-by-game results, highlights and highs and lows. Running score and individual leaders for each quarter. Halftime and final Box. Coaches' quotes from the dressing rooms.

All of the information will be dispensed as it is available and copies will be available in the hockey box following the game.

We ask your cooperation and if I can be of further assistance, please contact me.
